

The Evolution of Ekurhuleni Bowls

In some years prior to 1998 Eastern Transvaal Bowls was comprised of two associations, one for men and another for women. They were known as Eastern Transvaal Bowls Association (ETBA) and Eastern Transvaal Women's Bowls Association (ETWBA) respectively. In 1998, under pressure from local government, the men's and women's associations were merged to form Eastern Districts Bowls Association (EDBA). Simultaneously the two adjacent North East Rand District Associations, NERBA and NERWBA were also combined into one unisex district known as NERBA. EDBA and NERBA ran concurrently but as separate associations until 2003. Further government intervention in that year saw the two districts merged into the Eastern Gauteng Bowls Association (EGB). EGB endured for ten years until 2013, when, for good financial and politically beneficial reasons, it was renamed the Ekurhuleni Bowls Board (EKB) as it has existed up until today. The EKB not only falls totally within the jurisdiction of the Ekurhuleni Municipality but also administers clubs situated outside of the District that choose to affiliate to and compete within it – they are Modderfontein, Delmas and Heidelberg.

All the name changing in these years since 1994 has not changed the allegiance of EKB to Bowls South Africa which has always and still does administer bowls in the Republic of South Africa. Presently EKB is one of twenty Districts that make up bowls community in South Africa.

EKB also pays allegiance to the Gauteng Bowls Board (GBB) which is an association of the Districts resident in the Gauteng Province of South Africa. These Districts are Bowls Gauteng North (BGN), Ekurhuleni Bowls Board (EKB), Johannesburg Bowls Association (JBA), Sables Bowls Association (SAB) and Sedibeng Bowls Association (SED). Besides being the vehicle through which Transformation in bowls is administered nationally and controlled in Gauteng, the GBB arranges an Open tournament annually wherein all members of the associations of BSA compete for the accolades of being Champions of the Province in the various bowls disciplines.

EKB's governance is enshrined in a comprehensive constitution supported by a set of continuously updated bye laws. An Executive committee, elected by and from affiliated members of EKB in good standing, administers its affairs, promotes the sport and accounts to Bowls South Africa.
